FEATURED WEB-SITE

Spelling It Right

www.spelling.hemscott.net/index.html

This Website is operated by an english teacher in the UK. It is designed for adults who find spelling difficult and who want to learn how to spell correctly. There are a number of puzzles, short lessons and worksheets that you can use with your learner.

New Resources!!!

A little late for Christmas but just in time for the New Year, new materials have arrived at all HCLN programs.

Talk to your coordinator about getting access to these resources and using them as part of your lessons.

Also, if there are other materials you would like to have, please let us know and we will try to get them in.

Stories Wanted!

The Halifax Community Learning Network is publishing a book of stories written by students in our programs.

To do this, we need your stories.

If you would like to have your written work included in this book, please give a copy of it to your program coordinator.

The deadline for submissions is January 27th, 2004.

The book will be launched in February as part of the HCLN 10th anniversary celebrations.
